Democrats in Council—What they Propose to Do—Whisky Dealers Arrested—Spaniards on the Alert—Chinese Confidence in Mr. Burlingame Unshaken—Mr. Richardson's Condition—Difference of Opinion Among His Physicians—He Can Scarcely Recover—Cuban Meeting Postponed.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, December 1, 1869.

Edward Schaum, the murderer of Stott, in New York, was found last night at "Reddy, the Blacksmith's" saloon in this city, and arrested.

There was a meeting of the most prominent Democrats of the State at Albany last night at the request of Gov. Hoffman, at which the policy, to be pursued next year was freely discussed. Mr. Tweed, General Nelson, Oakey Hall and others were present.

The Sun's dispatch says: All the guests recommended the Governor in his message, to revoke the action of the late Legislature, and repeal the Fifteenth Amendment.

The canal question then came to the surface, and gave rise to a prolonged discussion. The general feeling was that the rate of tolls should be lowered, and the present contract system abolished. With respect to the municipal reform, the conclusion arrived at was that the delegation from each ward should prepare such bills as they should deem necessary. The Commissioners in New York are to be abolished. Other matters of less importance were merely touched upon.

A number of whisky dealers in Rondout and Kingston were arrested by Marshal Barlow a few days ago. Their stock was seized and their places of business closed on charges of defrauding the revenue. It appears that no stamps have been used on their packages, and the revenue officer in charge of the district, it is said, has not reported a stamp sold for two years. The frauds are said to amount to one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

It is rumored that the Spaniards in this city have been making earnest inquiries in marine circles about the number, armaments, location and movements of our naval vessels.

The Times' correspondent at Pekin, writes that the Chinese government is anxious to have it clearly understood that Burlingame's treaty has not been neglected, but action on it only deferred, it being thought best to wait until the results of the negotiations of the missions with other countries were received, when the whole subject might be disposed of at once. The confidence of the Ministers in Mr. Burlingame is unshaken.

The Pekin College is by no means a failure, as has been ascertained.

The grand mass meeting of Cuban sympathizers to have taken place on Friday evening has been postponed to the 8th instant. Some of the most prominent speakers of this city have promised to assist.

The examination of James Caldwell, charged with complicity in drawback frauds, resulted in his discharge.

The men arrested in Jersey City yesterday on suspicion of being concerned in the bank robbery at Port Jervis, were discharged for want of proof.

A boy employed by Stout & Dickinson, stock brokers, was knocked down in Wall street to-day, but though he had $35,000 in securities and gold with him, he was robbed of only one hundred dollars.

NEW YORK, Midnight.—Richardson remains in a very weak condition. Stimulants have been administered during the day and evening, and the stomach has retained them for an hour at a time. His physicians differ somewhat in opinion. Some believe his death is inevitable in a short time, while others are more hopeful. His friends feel slightly encouraged, but the grain of comfort is very small.

CHICAGO.

Railroad Accident and Loss of Life—Associated Press Arrangement—Myste-Death—Red River Matters, &c., &c.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, November 1.—Last evening the westward bound freight train on the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad, running in two sections, collided at Coon Point, near Dekota, Iowa. A. Smith, of Quincy, Michigan, and another man named Spaulding, were instantly killed. Four others were seriously injured. The collision was caused by the engineer of the leading leading section becoming stalled on a heavy grade and a sharp curve.

The Northwestern Associated Press, by an arrangement made yesterday with Mr. Medill, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Western Associated Press, are to pay seventy-five dollars per week for dispatches furnished by the latter, the contract to be terminated by either party on giving six months notice.

A girl named Dorothea Vonderhoff died suddenly last night at No. 150 Coolidge street, from the effects of poison, but whther administered by herself or some one else is not yet ascertained. She was employd in a saloon on Adams street, between State and Wabash avenue, and it is surmised the poison was administered by some one in the saloon.

A special from Madison, Wisconsin, says Congressman Hopkins is still alive, and his symptoms are regarded as more favorable, although there seems to be but little chance of his recovery.

A meeting of prominent Chicago gentlemen was held last night at the Sherman House. David A. Gage, J. C. Simpson, Jas. Van Etta, Wm. Tucker and Henry Graves were appointed delegates to the Turf Congress to be held in New York in January.

Last night a boy named Geo. H. Mullen, an inmate of the Chicago Reform School, between twelve and thirteen years of age, was struck with the butt of a whip stock on the head by a watchman named John Berton, and so severely injured that he died soon after. The reason given by Berton for striking the boy was that he laughed defiantly in his face. Berton surrendered himself.

A letter from Winnipeg to the St. Paul Pioneer dated 15th of November, says the French half breeds, who have possession of Fort Garry were to have a convention next day, and that English speaking people who are friendly, were invited to be present by delegates for the purpose of taking into consideration the present condition of the country, and to adopt such measures as may be deemed for the welfare of the people. It was believed that nothing would be agreed upon. Meantime the French half breeds are masters of the situation. They are more numerous than all the others combined, and have a number of more than ordinary ability. The following propositions will come before the Convention: First, A compromise with McDougall. Second, An independent Republic. Third, Annexation. Fourth, A Colony under England. Fifth, Return to the Hudson Bay Company's rule. The English and Scotch would probably agree to unite with the French half breeds in establishing a colony under England, while the French half breeds at present seem determined to have a separate government or annexation to the United States, or, as a last resort, a compromise with Gov. McDougall. The Pembina road is still guarded by a large number of men. If war takes place, both parties talk of calling in the aid of Northwestern Indian tribes, even the Sioux, which would demoralize all parties.

South Carolina and Cuba.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

COLUMBIA, S. C., December 1.—Both Houses of the Legislature to-day adopted resolutions expressive of sympathy for Cuba, and requesting the recognition of the insurgents as belligerents by the United States, and pledging the last dollar and man to the Government in case of war.

VIRGINIA.

The Meeting of the National Board of Trade at Richmond—Great Enthusiasm—Permanent Organization—Eloquent Speech of Gen. Hiram Walbridge—Highly Important Business Transacted—Withdrawal of the Pittsburgh Board of Trade—Ball in Honor of the Delegates on Friday Night, and a Grand Excursion to Follow.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

RICHMOND, November 30.—The greatest enthusiasm exists among the mercantile community here over the meeting of the National Board of Trade, which commences its session to-morrow. The Committee of Reception appointed by the Chamber of Commerce extend the hospitalities of the city. Nearly half of the members have arrived, chiefly from the Northwest. The Southern members will be here to morrow morning.

Prominent among the subjects to be discussed at this session will be the report of the special Committee recommending the completion of the James River and Kanawha Canal to the Ohio. It is believed an appropriation by Congress of twenty million dollars will be asked to complete this line.

A grand banquet is to be given to the Board of Trade by the Chamber of Commerce, and an excursion to Hampton Roads is in the programme.

RICHMOND, December 1.—The National Board of Trade met at noon to-day in the capitol. Prayer was offered, and an address of welcome delivered.

The report of the Executive Council for the past year was received. It shows that the National Board consists of thirty-seven constituent bodies and sixteen thousand business men.

Among the prominent questions to come up are weights and measures, conveyance of real estate, regulation of joint stock companies, legal rate for use of money, and the relations between debtor and creditor.

The Board then proceeded to elect officers for the ensuing year. Frederick Faraley, of Philadelphia, was elected President. On taking his seat, he said he had almost known the commerce of this country from its infancy and had watched its growth to its present proportions. It was so great that no man in public life could overlook its claims or ignore the the action of such a representative body at this. He thanked the Board for the great honor done him.

The Board then proceeded to the election of Vice Presidents. The following gentlemen were chosen: R. A. Kirkland, Baltimore; Avery Plummer, Boston; G. S. Hazard, Buffalo; George Opdyke, New York; W. N. Eagan, Chicago; J. A. Gano, Cincinnati; George F. Bogeley, Detroit; J. W. Taylor, St. Paul; J. J. Porter, Louisville; E. D. Hallen, Milwaukee; D. T. Burr, Richmond; J. H. Brown, Portland; L. R. Shrivock, St. Louis, and W. L. Frenholm, Charleston.

General Hiram Walbridge delivered an address. He spoke of the resources of the national Government and its existing obligations, and predicted that the latter will be paid to the uttermost farthing, as well as those of the State Governments, before the end of the present century. His estimate was, that the people of the south will have to pay a yearly tax of $11,50 per head, and the people of the north a tax $10,70 per head, exclusive of the county levies and corporation taxes. Commercial integrity consists in the redemption of every obligation. No calamity more dire to the people of every section could happen, than the dishonor of repudiation. He was profoundly convinced that the best interest of the whole people, as well as the sentiment of the century, demand that all our debts be paid. The great practical question then recurs, how are we to pay our debts? I answer it in one brief sentence. Let us grow up to the debt. And an enlightened statesmanship and a vigorous policy will soon accomplish this result. In order to grow up to the present debt, let the national government exert its vast power and wealth to produce a development so rapid that the demon of repudiation may be strangled before it has attained formidable proportions. Capital and human muscle should be utilized, and should migrate to those points where most demanded, and where most profitable. The national government has completed one railroad line connecting the Pacific with the Atlantic. This is but a beginning. A southern and a northern connection must be established. The climate, the topography of the country, its commercial wants, and the financial necessities of the Government, demand at least the three lines referred to. The extreme upper Mississippi valley is now supplied with water communication with the Atlantic by the St. Lawrence, the free use of which should be secured to us by proper negotiations. Another water line should be constructed through the centre of the country, connecting the heart of this great valley with the waters of the Chesapeake. Still further South the rivers should be rendered available to commerce and harmless for injury to Riparian agricultural by the appliance of art and science. Side by side with these great thoroughfares designed for heavy freight, lines of railway should be constructed direct, without curves, and on easy grades. Subsidies to the national lines of ocean steamers should be granted, until we regain our former position on the ocean. The National Government could now appropriate $200,000,000, a sum more than sufficient to complete the works out-lined, and the additional tax would scarcely be felt. In fact the influx of capital and labor would begin simultaneously with the commencement of the work, and long before any profit could be realized from their completion, the general Government would be more than reimbursed by the additional breadth that would be given to the basis of taxation.

General Walbridge concluded with an eulogy of President Grant, than whom no one is more likely to see that the highway to a real and enduring peace is the road that leads most directly and speedily to the development of the material resources of our country. The political orginization, by whatever name it may be designated, that brings itself in harmony with the spirit of the age, by following the lead of the executive, will be the coming party, and the man who leads it will be the coming man—the real hero of the nineteenth cenury.

After a recess a resolution was adopted limiting speeches to ten minutes, and daily sessions from 10 to 4 o'clock were fixed upon.

Applications for membership were received from the Richmond Flour and Corn Exchange, Augusta (Ga.) Board of Trade, and Petersburg Merchants' Exchange.

Permission was given the Board of Trade of Toledo, Ohio, and Pittsburgh, Pa., and Merchants' Exchange, of Peoria, Illinois, to withdraw from the Convention, with the National Board. The business programme was then commenced.

Consideration of the first four propositions was postponed. Proposition fifth, being the uniform measurement of grain, was taken up, and a resolution adopted that the number of pounds to constitute a bushel should be uniform in all the States, so long as bushels are used in trade; that the central system should be adopted in transferring all commodities usually sold by the bushel, and that measurement by bulk should be abolished.

The sixth proposition was tares and short weights. On this proposition resolutions were adopted recommending the local boards to adopt a rule that tares shall be the actual weight of the package at the time of sale in transactions, and to insist on full weight on measures on articles purporting to be of a certain fixed standard, but which are sold by parcel or package.

The seventh proposition was uniformity in executing conveyances of land. On this proposition a committee was appointed to prepare and recommend to all State Legislatures a statute to be adopted for the form and general requisites of conveyance of lands.

The eighth proposition was uniform practice in the United States District Courts. A committee was appointed to prepare a statute to be urged for use in all State District Courts in the collection of debts, where the parties reside in different States.

The ninth proposition was for local trade licenses. A resolution was adopted that the Executive Council shall recommend to all State Legislatures the repeal of all license laws discriminating against non resident traders. The discussion of this resolution was animated, its opponents taking ground that it was an effort of the large cities of the east to do all the business for the smaller cities of the west and south, without paying any tax thereon. Its friends urged that it was in keeping with the spirit of the age to which these local licence laws were opposed, and was the result of an enlightened commercial sentiment. Domestic free trade is to come, and might as well be accepted now. The resolution was favored by Messrs. Opdyke and Chittenden, of New York, Rapes, of Boston, and others, and opposed by Messrs. Gano, of Cincinnati, Dore of Chicago, and Hastie, of Charleston, S. C. It was adopted by 41 to 12.

Adjourned till to-morrow.

The Board got through nearly all of the business on its programme to-day. The citizens gave a ball in their honor on Friday night. The excursion to City Point and return by way of Petersburg battle field takes place at the end of the week. There are fifty-four members of the Board present.

COLUMBUS.

Proceedings in the State Christian Convention, &c.

COLUMBUS, December 1.—The State Christian Commission reassembled this morning in the First Presbyterian Church. Rev. Charles R. Dunbar, of Columbus, lead the Christian exercises, in connection with the Union prayer meeting, which has been held daily for nearly twelve years.

Rev. Henry Moorehouse, formerly of England, made a brief and eloquent address at this meeting, the subject being Christ's prayer for his followers.

On assembling at the place of meeting yesterday, the chair was taken by the permanent President, H. T. Miller, of Cincinnati, who made a brief address, invoking the harmony and influence of the Holy Ghost on the deliberations.

The morning session was spent in discussing topics and prescribing the programme adopted on yesterday. Speeches were made by Col. Anderson, Rev. J. W. Wiley, D. D. Moorley, Rev. Henry Moorehouse; and others.

In addition to the officers elected yesterday, E. H. Dannis, of Columbus, was elected Railroad Secretary, and William Dunn, of Circleville, and Rev. H. Linsebaugh, of Canton, Enrolling Committee.

During the progress of the discussions, a crazy street preacher made a five minutes' speech, and got along pretty well until he began to get somewhat personal in his reflections. As it was pretty evident he was likely to prove a serious disturbance to the meeting, two policemen came in to arrest him, on complaint of the Committee of Arrangements, but he was induced to be quiet and permitted to remain.

At the afternoon session a communication was read from the Superintendent of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum inviting the delegates to visit the Institution.

First topic for discussion: "How can the christian activities of the entire membership of the Church be best organized and developed?" was opened by Gen. R. Brinkerhoff. He urged the importance of having committees appointed in every Church, whose duty it shall be to visit every member once a month, and see that the sick, aged, infirm and poor, are ministered to. It was shown that the churches were excelled by secret societies in the care for these classes.

Messrs. Moody, of Chicago, Caldwell, of Cleveland, Hayden, of Painesville, and Chidlaw, of Cincinnati, participated in the discussion.

Crazy Clements attempted to speak, but was silenced by Judge Reuben Hetaheack presiding, who decided that he could not be heard.

The question elicited a lively interest, the responses to questions being in all cases impromptu, and often very pertinent.

A Committee on Resolutions was appointed, consisting of J. W. Wiley, D.D., Revs. W. H. Goodrich, B. G. Sigfried, Hon. E. E. White and W. E. Wart.

The 2nd topic: "The best way of uniting evangelical Christians in the work," was opened by Dr. E. Pratt, of Portsmouth, who urged the importance of union meetings, and predicted the coming together in Christ of all denominations now kept apart by sin and ignorance. He said he had just read the Methodist discipline through and through. It is good reading [laughter]. We learned to love and respect each other by finding each other out. The difference between evangelical denominotions had not meat enough in them to feed a single starving soul.

John Henry Douglass, of Warren county, a Quaker preacher, spoke, saying he had felt perfect freedom here. He quoted from the seventeenth chapter of John, as authority for Christian unity.

Rev. Erwin House, of Cincinnati, thought Christians, whether Baptist, Methodist or Presbyterian, worked best in their own Churches; but they need have none the less regard for each other for this fact.

Dr. Mather was glad the Methodist Discipline had done his Presbyterian brother, Pratt, so much good in twenty-four hours. If he would keep it two or three years longer it would do him more good. (Laughter.) He advocated the frequent exchange of pulpits by ministers of different denominations.

The Committee on Enrollment reported the names of nearly three hundred delegates representing Baptists, Congregationalists, Friends, Methodist Episcopal, and Wesleyan, Moravian, and Protestant Episcopal, United Brethren, Christian, Lutheran, Disciples and numerous Young Men's Christian Associations, and other religious bodies.

The singing was led by Prof. W. H. Doane and pupils, Misses Gould and Barker.

At the evening session an animated discussion on the best method of increasing the study of the Bible, and the question of the Bible in the Common Schools, was participated in by Hon. E. E. White, Rev. Henry Morehouse, Rev. W. Newton, and Rev Dr. Eells. The discussion attracted a high degree of interest, and continued until a late hour.

A dispatch was received from the Wisconsin State Convention in session in Milwaukee, as follows: "Psalms 20th, 5th: "We will rejoice in thy salvation and in the name of our God we will set up our banners. The Lord fulfill all thy petitions. At five P. M. to-day sing: 'Blest be the tie that binds.'"

Dr. Wiley, from the Committee on Resolutions reported a resolution in opposition to teaching sectarian doctrines, creeds, catechism, rituals in common schools, and that we hold with chief justice story, in the Girard will case, that the bible is not a sectarian book, and are apposed to legislation excluding it from the schools.

After singing "Cling to the bible" the resolutions were adopted. All then joined with great spirit in singing "My Country 'tis of thee".

NEWBURYPORT.

Lecture by Wendell Phillips.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEWBURYPORT, December 1.—Wendell Phillips, in a speech in the Lyceum last night, demanded of Congress to assume the Government which the Executive had abdicated, that it compel the States lately in rebellion to educate its eight million dunces, and that if it refuse to do so, then the Government itself, at the expense of all the people, shall assume the duty, afterwards sending the bill to the different States. It must protect the citizens as well as legislate for them. The war is not ended. It has just begun. In the latter portion of his lecture the speaker severely criticized the New York Tribune, for virtually saying, on Saturday last, that we could not carry on this government unless we entreat Jefferson Davis to come and help us. Mr. Phillips said the Southern whites have got the business and the wealth, and have captured the Supreme Court. A worse than Taney wields its thunder bolt to-day. A recreant Republican; a man who drags the ermine through the infamy of Tammany Hall, and means to contest the election with the candidate of the republican party. If the republican party had a brave man at its head, he would marshall its forces, nail its colors, no forgiveness, to the mast, and absolutely impregnate every northern mind with the idea. The speaker continued, with a demand that the lands should be given to the blacks as freely as possible, and spoke with great force of the coming tide of Orientals to the Pacific shore, which is to be the greatest act of American civilization it has yet experienced.

PARIS, December 1.—It is reported that M. Guisot has had an audience with the Emperor every morning.

Apprehensions are entertained of disturbances on the anniversary of the death of Bauden.

LONDON, December 1.—Various Paris letters published in the morning papers agree that the Emperor's speech on the opening of the Corps Legislatif fell flat. The public mind is disappointed with the speech, and the more it is considered the less it is liked.

The Times of to-day, in an editorial, says, the Emperor has not yet mastered the full truth. The ministerial responsibility which he conceals, is incompatible with the theory of personal government, which he would fain retain. He is embarrassed between the two principles, undecided and halting, and it is uncertain which way he will incline. Time was, when such a condition would bode ill for the peaceful developement of French progress, but it is now past.

Schneider is re-elected President of the Corps Legislatif.

Synod of the German Reformed Church—Important Question Settled—Masonic Grand Lodge Officers Elected.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1.—In the General Synod of the Reformed Church today a vote was reached on the report on the liturgy. The clause which prohibits the optional use of either liturgy, except by a vote of the congregation, was lost, 81 to 102. The other clause, which looks to the sending down of two liturgies to the classis for approval or disapproval, was also defeated, 76 to 105. The original report was then adopted, 117 to 52. Thus this vexed question was settled by allowing the free use of the western order of worship, placing it in the same position with eastern, which received such permission three years ago, until such time as the Church may be prepared to make a proper decision.

The following officers were elected by the R. W. Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Pennsylvania to-day: Grand Master, Robert A. Lamberton, of Harrisburg; Deputy Grand Master, Samuel C. Pinkins; Senior Grand Warden, Alfred B. Patted; Junior Grand Warden, Robert Clark; Grand Treasurer, Peter Williamson; Grand Secretary, Jno. Thornton.

MISSISSIPPI.

The Election—Alcorn Probably Elected Governor.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

MEMPHIS, December 1.—The election news from Mississippi is very meagre. The Avalanche's special from Holly Springs says there is nothing definite. Marshall county has probably gone for Alcorn. A dispatch from Okalona says that the county has gone Radical by one hundred and fifty. No disturbances as far as heard from.

The Avalanche, Jackson, Mississippi special says the returns are very scanty, but indicate Alcorn's election. The following counties give Alcorn majorities: Yozoo, 2,000; a gain of 1,600 over last year. Hinds, 1,500, Monroe, 2,000, Touderdale, Tishomingo, Lawendes and Small give Alcorn 3,800 majority. Jefferson, 1,513. gain of 500; Jackson, 629; Noxubee, 2,751; Wilkinson, 2,500; Adams 2,500; Rankin, doubtful. The following give majorities for Dent: Talabusha, 700; Cappist 150. The river counties' vote is very small.

A dispatch from Grenada, Mississippi, says: Talahasha county gives 1,250 for Dent. Water Valley and Coffeeville goes for Dent.

Accidental Shooting.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Dec. 1.—Abram D. Allen, a well known and highly respected citizen of this county, accidentally shot himself, causing immediate death. This afternoon he took down his gun to shoot a hawk, blew in the muzzle to ascertain whether it was loaded, when his foot slipped from the hammer, discharging the load through his brain.

CINCINNATI.

Sale of the Cincinnati, Wilmington and Zanesville Railroad—Further Discussion of the Bible-School Question in the Court.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

CINCINNATI, December 1.—The Cincinnati, Wilmington and Zanesville Road will be sold at three o'clock this afternoon, to satisfy the claims of European holders of its bonds, who are represented by Charles Moran. The bidders are Thomas L. Jewett; in the interest of the Pennsylvania Central. Baltimore and Ohio will bid. Its President (King) is expected; also Edgar J. Thomson, President of the Pennsylvania Central.

LATER.—The Cincinnati, Wilmington & Zanesville road was sold this afternoon to satisfy European holders of one million three hundred thousand dollars bonds, with two years accrued interest at seven per cent. One hundred and thirty-one miles of the road from Morrow to Zanesville, sixteen locomotives, sixteen passenger cars and seventy-nine freight, cattle, and coal cars, and real estate worth two hundred thousand, sold for one million seven hundred thousand dollars, the worth of the unpaid stock out. Thos. L. Jewett, President of the Pan Handle road, purchased, it is supposed, for the Pennsylvania Central. Charles Moran represented the European bond holders.

A meeting of Commissioners from the counties along the proposed line of the Columbus and Nashville Road, in conjunction with the incorporators of the same, was held at the Burnet House at three this afternoon, and in the evening the latter meeting conferred with President Jewett, of the Panhandle, with the hope of assurance that the Pennsylvania Central would iron and stock the road if the people would grade it. Jewett assured favorable co-operation, but declined definite pledges for the present, owing to the large schemes on hands.

From Columbus to Aberdeen has been surveyed, and is one hundred and seven miles. The profile and surveys are to be sent to Jewett. The books will be opened for subscription of stock on January 13th, next year.

In the Bible question in the Supreme Court Geo. R. Sage spoke. His argument was that the Constitution declares religion essential to good Government, and that was the first reason assigned for the establishment of common schools. The religion meant by the Constitution is the religion of the Bible. No other religion can be observed in Ohio without a violation of law. Constitutional recognition of its truth and divine religion is the great conservative element of society, and gives law, majesty, power, and the highest authority. The Goverement is bound by a regard for its own safety and welfare to furnish those who are to become its citizens such instruction in the elementary truth's of religion, as can be imparted without interfering with the rights of conscience. Reading the bible with-out note or comment conveys elemental truths, and leaves individuals free to choose as to doctrines. The defendants admit that religious instruction is indispensable to make children good citizens; that large numbers would not receive it except in the public schools. The Board of Education have no right to omit the instruction on account of prejudices or sectarianism; of rights of conscience defined by the constitution, by the history and policy of the State, not by the whim or caprice of the citizen. The first right of conscience is that all sources of information shall be open and free to every man, woman and child. It is the dogma of despotism, not the doctrine of liberty, that one view alone of religion shall be given to the child, who is to exercise this right of conscience for selfinstructions. These rights of conscience is fully protected by the rule of schools excusing thei children from all religious instructions in schools. Mr. Sage concluded this afternoon, having spoken four and a half hours.

Judge Stanley Matthews, who is an elder in the Presbyterian Church, followed for defendants. He said his appearance cost him a severe mental effort. Except the loss of dear children, it was the most painful experience of his life. He was assailed, not by enemies but by friends: was charged with opposition to the Bible, and the loss of his Christian reputation. Yet he considered it his duty to appear. He deprecated this discussion as leading to a transfer of the religious contest to political parties. He thought the whole contest was over a small matter. The omission of the reading of the Bible would not do one tithe of the harm that would result from the violation of conscience by enforcing the old rule. He charged the counsel with insisting upon the establishment of the Protestant religion by the State. He read a communication to the New York Independent by Rev. H. W. Bellows, which he characterized as "sound and fury," and nothing else. A discussion of this question warned Catholics that civil war would result if they pushed their plans for the destruction of the of public schools. He said every word of that letter was contained in the argument of counsel on the other side.

The Court adjourned before his argument was concluded.

GENERAL NEWS.

THE Vermont Legislature has passed a bill holding liquor dealers responsible for the damage to persons or property done by those obtaining liquors of them.

IT is reported that the murderer of Mr. Charles Rogers,—the two months wonder of a year ago,—has returned to New York, and the detectives are again trying to ferret him out.

A NEW coffin manufactory was opened in Williamsburg, N. Y., a short time since, by a grand festival. Eight hundred were present, who the proprietor hopes will be patrons.

ONE of the coldest nights of last week, a young widow was found praying and crying at the grave of her husband, and nearly perished from cold. She could be removed only by force.

THE managers of the Pacific railroad are preparing fuel and provision cars to run with every train during the winter, so that if a train gets snowed in, the passengers will not freeze or starve to death.

AN Indiana correspondent deserves a niche in the Temple of Fame, by the side of the "Great American Condensor." In speaking of a recent lynching, he says: "We arrived on the ground about 6 o'clock in the morning, and found Billy Stark hanging to the limb of a beech tree. At 9 o'clock we cut him down."

A WOMAN in Wisconsin, after having married and buried a second husband, is an applicant for a divorce in order to marry the third, she having just learned that her first husband, who was reported murdered in California eleven years ago, is still in the flesh and living with a second wife in San Francisco.

IN a case at New York it has been decided that the delivery of a letter to the authorized agent of the person to whom it is addressed terminates the connection of the post office with it, and the subsequent embezzlement by such agent is not an offence against the United States, but can only be taken cognizance of in the State courts

JUDGE WILKINS, of the United States District Court, announced, in discharging the Grand Jury at Detroit on Friday, that it was probably the last time he should ever address a Grand Jury of the Court, as it was his purpose to avail himself of the provisions of the act of Congress permitting aged Judges to retire from the Bench upon full pay.

OUT in Omaha a German alleges that he was kept locked up in a hotel for two weeks, without his consent, had a physician wait upon him and treat him for lunacy, and a bill run up against him for board and attendance amounting to the entire sum of money in his possession, $300. He believes that he was drugged and kept in durance for the purpose of depriving him of his funds. The police were investigating the affair.

INDIANA farmers do not give encouraging reports of the wheat crop prospect for next season, so much of that sown not having a chance to get well sprouted before the freezing weather caught it. During the time of the drought that succeeded the wheat sowing, wheat in the ground remained, in great part, in a state of uncertainty as to whether it would sprout and grow, or preserve its kernel identity, in spite of wind and water, and the earth in which it had found a lodgment.

THE report of the Ohio Board of Charities shows that three hundred and forty-seven convicts were received at the Ohio Penitentiary during the year; ninety were under twenty-one years of age; sixty-three claimed to be temperate persons, one hundred and sixty-five moderate drinkers, and seventy-nine intemperate; four had received classical educations and one hundred fifty-two common educations; thirty-three can neither read nor write, fifty can barely read, and one hundred and eight barely read and write.

THE sister of Father Hyacinthe has also left the Convent of the Carmelites and abandoned the veil. The following are the circumstances: About a month previous to the famous manifest when everybody was commenting on the scandalous fact of a Carmelite nun being found driven to insanity in a prison of the convent, Father Hyacinthe hastened to the convent where his sister was immured and demanded her dismissal in the name of the law, not wishing her to be a member of an order in the bosom of which such outrages were being perpetrated.

THE Methodist, the organ of the Lay Delegation party in the Methodist Episcopal Church, regrets the extreme brevity of the recent report of the Book Committee. The Church, it says, should know the amount of its losses by mismanagement. The full explanatory documents incident to the trial, containing minor details and figures, should be given to the public. Those who are vindicated by the facts should have the benefit of publicity, and those whom the facts condemn should be exposed. The agents are responsible for their "mismanagement and carelessness."

VINCENT COLYER, special Indian Commissioner, arrived in Omaha on the 25th, en route east, having made the trip from Sitka along the Alaska coast in twenty-two days. He has visited two-thirds of all the Indian tribes in the United States. He found over seventy thousand in Alaska. They have droves of cattle, and many mechanical tools, raise considerable grain, and, in fact, are much superior to most other Indian tribes. They are now quite peaceable, especially partial to Americans, and live in villages of well constructed buildings. He considers the purchase of Alaska a most judicious and profitable one for the United States.

REPORTS from England are to the effect that the iron trade is now in a better condition than it has been for the past four years. The rich mines of Cleveland are producing many thousands of tons of ore every day, and the blast furnaces of the world's iron market are making immense quantities of pigs. All the makers are now so well sold forward that they refuse to book orders for next year's delivery at the present rates. As much as fifty shillings are now given for No. 1, and there is every prospect of the price still advancing. In every branch of the finished iron trade there is great briskness, and prices are consequently much improved.

THE Treasurer of the United States now holds $75,478,800 in six per cent, bonds on account of the regular sinking fund, and the fund is held subject to the order of Congress. All was purchased since the 11th of May, when the Secretary of the Treasury initiated his new policy. These bonds cost the Government $89,282,270. The interest on them gives an income of $4,528,728 per year to the Government, of which $703,304 already fallen due has been invested in $787,000 of bonds which are also held subject to the order of Congress. The Secretary, as heretofore announced, has ordered the purchase of $13,000,000 bonds during the month of December, and is likely by the first of next May to have reduced the public debt in this way at least $125,000,000.

GROUND was broken last week at Providence for the Rhode Island Soldiers' Monument. The structure is to be of Westerly granite, said to be the finest material of the kind in the United States, and it is the intention to have the monument completed for dedication on the fourth of July next. There will be three bronze statues, seven feet in height, representing a cavalry soldier, an artillery soldier and a sailor; also a crowning statue, ten feet in height, representing the Genius of America. The names of over sixteen hundred men, from the Major General to the common soldier, from the Naval commander to the ordinary seaman, who gave up their lives to save their country, will be placed on bronze tables at the base of the monument.

TRAUPMAN, the assassin a la mode in Paris, has been subjected to the scrutiny of M. Berger, a French professor of phrenology. The results of his investigations are at least startling, and to the uninitiated might appear contradictory. The most highly developed organ of Traupmann's head is the love of children. With the memory of his recent exploits fresh in one's mind, this announcement is calculated to take one by surprise, but the learned professor explains that an abnormal development of the bumps of combativeness, secretiveness and acquisitiveness enables an otherwise benevolent person to overcome his philanthropic tendencies. The well-known M. Desbarrolles has also been admitted to examine the hands of the Pantin murderer, but his report is less favorable. In the lines of the palm he reads the sign of many evil passions, and traces a general resemblance between his fingers and those of the notorious Dumollard, who was executed a few years ago for having murdered sixteen girls in seven years.

ON the 11th of November, Rossini's remains were disinterred at the Pere La Chaise Cemetery, in Paris. About twenty of the friends of the deceased maestro were present on the occasion, at the request of his widow. Rossini, whose remains have been temporarily buried in the vault of the Countess Pepoli (Alboni), rests now in a mausolem constructed in the so-called Alley of Honor, facing the large entrance portal. On the front of the monument is engraved in letters of gold, the word "Rossini." The interior walls of the chapel are painted in red. Two marble tables are fixed in the walls on the right and left. In the background is a small altar of white marble.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 122.

IT is proposed by our Government that when the Alabama negotiation shall be re-opened it shall be at Washington and not London. To this it is thought the British Government will readily agree. The acerbity which followed the rejection of Reverdy Johnston's treaty seems to have subsided.

THE Pottsville Journal insists, very rationally, that coal should not be regarded as a raw material. What is said of anthracite, in the paragraph below quoted, is also unusually applicable to the bituminous variety. Says the Journal:

> Many of the Breakers and Machinery, attached to prepare the coal to send to market after it is mined, cost more than the large Flour Mills, Furnaces and even Rolling Mills of the large class to make Iron and Steel Nails. As well might nearly one-half of the manufactures now produced be classed as raw material as to class prepared Anthracite coal as a raw material.

SOME sardonic Bohemian at Washington treats the country to a grim joke, in telegraphing thence that the President inclines, in the event of the elevation of Mr. HOAR, to call Mr. B. H. Brewster, of Pennsylvania, to the Attorney General's office. General GRANT makes fewer mistakes, in the choice of the men whom he would trust, than any American who was ever distinguished either in military or civic command. It is really beyond a joke to impute to him now any purpose to make the most unfortunate choice of which the case could admit.

THE Executive selections for the vacant Judgeships are not likely to transpire, until the nominations shall be laid before the Senate, probably the week after next. The first week will be occupied in both Houses, with the preliminaries incidental to the commencement of the session. Probably no selections have yet been definitively made, unless for the Supreme Court, where rumor very generally concurs in assigning the appointment to Attorney General HOAR. For the nine Circuit posts, the number of candidates is legion, this, the IIIrd District, alone furnishing a full baker's dozen of competitors, most of whom are quite able to present the qualifications which the President is understood to insist upon, viz: that the nominee shall be neither too old, nor too young, that his juridical attainments shall command the respect of the public, and that his political record shall be uncompromisingly in line with the radical doctrines of an enlightened republican liberty. In making these selections, a serious responsibility devolves upon the Administration, which, it is well understood, realizes the critical results of its action in the premises, too deeply to be swayed in any particular by any other and merely personal considerations.

FREEDOM AND CUBA.

The Spanish Government promulgates its colonial policy, to include self government, a free press, public schools, impartial suffrage, the gradual but speedy abolition of slavery, and civil and political rights without distinction of color. This programme takes effect in Porto Rico at once, and in Cuba with the suppression of the existing revolt. But it won't suit these rebels. It embodies a policy which their revolt is designed to resist—a policy which was manifested, as the destiny of every Spanish colony or dependency, from that hour which exiled the Bourbons and restored Spain to her people. We repeat what we have so often said heretofore, that the Cuban insurrection aims at the preservation of that infamous institution which only Bourbonism could maintain, in the face of a world's condemnation.

Sympathizers with these rebels are found in our own country—and will be, as long as Cuban gold can buy venal journalists—who flourish in our faces a paper pronunciamento, manufactured in New York, purporting to decree the same abolition of slavery by the revolutionary authority. All humbug!

We hear, from Washington, as we have all heard before and frequently, that Cuban bonds are as plenty there, for the purchase of corrupt Congressmen, as in the larger cities to bribe pretentious journalism. We trust that members will not be found as cheaply accessible as this.

By a concerted movement in some of the larger Eastern cities, petitions are actively circulated invoking the Congressional recognition of Cuban independence. Of course, these are freely signed by all the world and his wife who sign any petition offered to them. But a cart-load of such trash is worth nothing as a correct indication of an intelligent public sentiment.

OUR HARVEST HOME.

For the three days past, Pittsburgh has gaily welcomed the most charming weather. Sunday was a dull day, the sky having no clouds, the air no grateful moisture and the sun no promises for a more acceptable morrow. But, as all signs fail in a day time, so Monday's storm made every good citizen happy with the music of dripping eaves and pattering rain, which dripped and pattered with increasing volume hour after hour, through the day and the night and another day, finally swelling into the harmonious torrent of Tuesday afternoon and evening's old fashioned down-pour. The rains, long waited for, were come at last, the rivers responded and in twenty-four hours, over three millions of dollars, in our mineral and manufactured products, were afloat and away for the markets below.

This pluvial and fluvial blessing, to the material interests of our industrious city, may be the better appreciated by our distant friends when they comprehend the full measure of the relief which it yields to the monetary strictures and other kindred embarrassments caused to our general business by the long continued drought. In addition to the half million of tons of coal which were awaiting a boating stage of the river, our levies were piled up, our warehouses filled, and every available barge and steamer loaded with that immense variety of "Pittsburgh goods" with which our mills and workshops supply the needs of five million customers in the great valley which embraces the heart of a continent. Large sums of capital were thus locked up, to remain unavailable until the distant markets could be reached. That no branch of production was temporarily checked by the embargo on shipments, now happily ended, was to us a pleasant evidence of the financial strength of our community. But it would be idle to claim that no embarrassments from this cause were felt, or that their present solution is not most grateful to all our business interests.

In addition to the vast acres of coal sent adrift on the floodwater, an immense quantity of oil will be set afloat for the markets. Hundreds of thousands of barrels have been locked up in the regions for months past, owing to the incapacity of the railroads to move them away. Produce, too, and cereals will be brought out by the rise and placed in the markets, and a fresh impetus given to all branches of trade.

We repeat, then, that the late rains which have now come to our relief were more acceptable to Pittsburgh than all the Indian summer brightness ever known to the almanacs, or even dreamed of in the sanguine philosophy of the clerk of the weather's first cousin, our excellent friend "G. A."

SOUTHWESTERN RAILWAY CONNECTIONS.

The railway from Zanesville to Morrow, on the Little Miami Road, thirty-nine miles east of Cincinnati, was ordered to be sold, under mortgage foreclosure, on the 1st inst. At this writing, we have no knowledge of the result, but presume that it was purchased, as proposed, by the Pennsylvania Railroad interest. The Baltimore line intended competition, and may have run up the selling price without other effect. The connection with the Pan Handle line at Dresden, sixteen miles to be built, is promised to be made at once. The Little Miami road is now included in the same affiliations, so that the Pennsylvania interest thus secures a new and more eligible Cincinnati connection, without depending wholly, as at present, upon the undesirable partnership with the B. & O. Company in the thirty-three miles of line between Newark and Columbus. The existing line, from Morrow to Cincinnati, can be shortened five miles and otherwise much improved, by the construction of another route via. Turtle Creek and Lebanon, to the western side of the Queen City. This may become necessary when the full disadvantages of the present connection with the western roads at that point, by a track through crowded suburbs and along the narrow and obstructed city front, shall come, as they will, to be found impracticable.

This prospect of the extension of the Pennsylvania railway system, into Southern Ohio, has given a decided impetus to public sentiment in that region, in favor of a more direct communication Southward and Southwestward through Ohio and Kentucky. Several companies have been organized, proposing to connect with the C. & Z. Road, under its new and invigorated ownership, at various points on the line. Lancaster, Circleville, and Hillsboro', already are named as the respective termini for these Southern lines. The competition has been stimulated by the authority of the Pennsylvania interest, in pledging its material aid to whichever of these connections may be found most eligible. The popular expectations seem to be wholly based upon the idea of a connection with our system, while the Baltimore element seems to be regarded as both an unknown and an immaterial quantity in this relation. The bare suggestion, that the Pennsylvania interests are about to take the field, operates, like the charmed touch of Ithuriel's spear, to give life and vigor to the most torpid existences. So, a region of Ohio, comprising fully one-fourth of that great State, which has exhibited for years a sort of suspended animation, in the matter of public enterprise, is now thoroughly awakened, and ambitious of a brighter future. The results from which they anticipate so much, have equal promise for Pennsylvania railway interests, and for Pittsburgh, which cannot fail to profit by the development of its trade with Southern Ohio and Eastern Kentucky.

THE BAKER EXPEDITION.

We referred, yesterday, to the avowed designs of the great Egyptian expedition into the heart of the African Continent, as of a character which merits the condemnation and not the approval of the civilized world. The annexed extract from a letter, dated in October, at Alexandria, to the Columbus Journal, presents these designs in the clearest light. The writer says:

> As to whether the Viceroy intends to suppress the slave trade or merely to extend his own dominion, but one opinion is entertained by natives or by foreigners who have examined the question in Egypt. After this arises the question whether Baker Basha enters heartily into his employer's design or is he employed as a cat's paw. On this there is some difference among foreigners. I do not know that Sir Samuel has said anything publicly that would help to decide the matter, and in the absence of such help I was inclining to the latter views of his case when a gentleman, who had heard him express himself quite freely to a small company in Ramleh, gave me a pretty full account of his declarations. It would be presumptuous in me to pretend to give his exact words, but what follows may safely be taken for a true summary of his principal views and expectations as declared by himself. To a remark about the relations of his expedition to Egyptian slavery he replied he considered Egyptian slavery well enough and had no intention of meddling with it or the slave trade.
> On the religious bearings of his expedition he was equally explicit. His work is not the propagation of any creed but the mission of civilization, though he has no doubt that it will incidentally turn many tribes to Islam and so give them a better religion than they have at present. To this comparison of religions most of his hearers could assent, but he shocked some of his British admirers by adding that Mohammedanism is good enough for them and not a bad religion for anybody. To sustain this assertion he said that the Koran embraces the two main dogmas of his own belief, about the only ones, he thinks, that have got beyond the debatable ground of theological controversy, and these are the existence of a Creator and the fact that He has sometimes sent prophets to teach mankind. Among the chief of these he mentioned Moses and Jesus Christ, and then, in deference to the Christians present, he added, "and, if I may so say, Mohammed."
> Now your correspondent does not imagine that the world will be made much worse by this expedition, or that the savages of the interior will lose much by exchanging their own anarchy for a sudden conquest and their own petty despots for the Viceroy's deputies; but he does think it a mistake for the press of Christian countries to commend it as a philanthropic project with evangelizing tendencies. The Viceroy may thus gain power which the public opinion of Europe may compel him to use for the advancement of civilization and freedom, but he has not set down anything of that sort in his present programme.

SPECIE RESUMPTION.

EDITORS GAZETTE: I hope Congress will just let the matter alone in the hands of Mr. Boutwell, who is master of the situation, and is not only making money for the Government, but is holding the reins so steady, while the waves are lashing around him, that the gold gamblers are utterly routed, and a man at the helm who is fearless, and keeping his eye on the one object of bringing up the currency to a specie basis. The people (with the banks), are so closely identified with the Government, that they must stand or fall together. When gold ceases to be an article of speculation, which we think it soon will, what use have we for it? When paper money, such as we have, is on a par with gold, we don't care about it for any practical purpose, and the ship will then run clear of any breakers. In the mere time, let us keep within sight of shore, so that when all articles of trade are at specie prices, we may get ready for a future and better day. GOOD HOPE.

THE Cambria county Democracy contemplate the adoption of the "Crawford county system."

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD.

VEGETABLE GARDEN FOR NOVEMBER.

In those parts where the frost has not yet been severe enough to injure the Celery crop, it may have another earthing up. Care must be exercised in the operation not to let the earth get into the hearts of the plants, or they will be liable to rot. Where the plant has evidently finished its growth for the season, measures should be taken to preserve it through the winter. For family use it is probably as well to let it stay where it is growing, covering the soil with leaves, litter or manure, to keep out the frost, so that it can be taken up as wanted. Where large quantities are frequently required, it is better to take up and put it in a smaller compass, still protecting it in any way that may be readily accessible. It always keeps best in the natural soil, where it is cool and moist and free from frost, and whatever mode of protection is resorted to, these facts should be kept in view.

Beets, turnips and other root crops will also require protection. They are best divested of their foliage and packed in layers of sand in a cool cellar.

Parsnips are best left in the soil as long as possible. If any are wanted for late spring use they may be left out to freeze in the soil, and will be much improved.

Cabbage is preserved in a variety of ways. If a few dozen only, they may be hung up by the roots in a cool cellar, or buried in the soil heads downward, to keep out the rain, or laid on their sides as thickly as they can be placed, nearly covered with soil, and then completely covered with corn stalks, litter or any protecting material. The main object in protecting all these kinds of vegetables is to prevent their growth by keeping them cool as possible and to prevent shriveling by keeping them moist.

Cabbage plants, lettuce and spinnach sown last September will require a slight protection. This is usually done by scattering straw loosely over. The intention is principally to check the frequent thawings, which draw the plants out of the ground.

In making new vegetable gardens a southeast aspect should be chosen as far as praticable. Earliness in the crops is a very great desideratum, and such an aspect favors this point materially. Too great a slope is objectionable, as inducing too great a run of water in heavy rains. The plots for the crops should be laid off in squares or parallelograms, for convenience in digging, and the edges of the walks set with box edging. If water can be introduced it is a great convenience.

Asparagus beds, after the tops have been cleared off, are better covered with litter or stable manure. The plants shoot earlier for it next season.

When the ground becomes frozen, or no other work offers, preparation can always be made for advancing prospective work when it arrives. Bean poles may be made; and if the ends are charred, and then dipped in coal tar, the commonest material will be rendered nearly equal to the best cedar.—Gardner's Monthly.

WEIGHING WITH THE TAPE MEASURE.

The only instrument necessary is a measure with the feet and inch marks upon it. The girth is the circumference of the animal just behind the shoulder blades. The superficial feet are obtained by multiplying the girth and length. The following table contains the rule to ascertain the weight of the animal:

If less than one foot in girth, multiply the superficial feet by eight; if less than than three and more than one, multiply the superficial feet by sixteen; less than seven and more than five, multiply the superficial feet by twenty-five; if less seven, multiply the superficial feet by thirty-three, if less than eleven and more than nine, multiply the superficial feet by forty-two. Example: Suppose a pig to measure in girth two feet, and length one foot nine inches; there would be three and a half feet, which, multiplied by eleven, gives thirty-eight and a half pounds as the weight of the animal when dressed. In this way the weight of the four quarters can be substantially ascertained during life.—Southern Cultivator.

FATTENING PORK.

Fattening hogs must now have as much as they can eat; they should be urged forward as fast as possible before extreme cold weather comes on. They will gain more in a week now than in two weeks, probably, two months hence. There is much that has been gathered from the garden and fields that may be added to the mush or corn for hogs. Pumpkins, refuse squashes, cabbages, apples, potatoes, &c., may be boiled up in a large furnace keetle or stove boiler, or occasionally fed out raw, just for variety; for Mr. pig is a gentleman, like some human epicures and consumers that prefer a variety of dishes and a good dessert after all, though your mainstay for fattening him is grain of some kind. Indian corn, ground up, is best. Buckwheat comes next; rye is good, mixed with Indian meal, and oats always makes the breakfast relish well. You should bear in mind to let your hogs have charcoal or rotten wood of some kind every year. A little brimstone, too, is good. Never permit your swine to decline, for a hog once in good condition and then reduced to a skeleton, can not be brought back at less than twice the expense that would have maintained his condition. Get a good, white, medium sized breed for family use. The Chester whites are deservedly in good repute.

DRESSED HOGS.

At a meeting of the Delaware (Ohio) Farmers' Club, the subject of slaughtering and dressing hogs was discussed, as well as the curing of pork. It was recommended that the hog should be laid on the back; that the party butchering should stand over the hog, left hand on nose, edge of the knife toward the hog; cut both arteries, three inches sufficient, five better, the main thing being to bleed well. Scald as soon as killed—two hogs to one kettle of water; blood is a good test for the water; if too hot it curdles the blood; water should be soft; if hard throw in some ashes; some prefer pine tar or rosin.

Throw a bucket of cold water over the hog as soon as scalded—it closes the pores and whitens the skin. When hung up, wash, scrape upwards, wash again, and wipe with a cloth; should be thoroughly washed, scraped and wiped; heart or liver should never be cut in the hog; take entrails out to jugular vein, then take the vein, heart and liver out.

The pork should be slightly salted for two or three days, skin down, and then turned and covered with salt; put in brine for thirty days for medium sized ham; brine should be preserved, old brine the best, but should be boiled and skimmed before used; salt should be well rubbed in; coarse salt the best, not safe to use salt in the bottom of the barrel after having stood for some time; eight pounds salt, five pounds sugar, and one-fourth pound saltpetre to 100 pounds meat is the recipe.

BLIND TEETH IN HORSES.

These occur in some horses between the ages of three and six, between the bridle tooth and grinders, a small, long tooth, without roots, and not inserted in a socket, but merely in the gum of the upper jaw. We have never seen it alluded to in any system of farriery; except in one late American work, but our farmers in the West, to our knowledge, can trace its existence for more than three-quarters of a century. It may, and doubtless does, occur in horses of any shaped head, but in three cases which occurred on our own farm some years ago, it was in horses of "dished" heads. One had gone entirely blind before we were apprised of the cause, and the other two, we relieved by having the blind teeth extracted immediately. Hundreds of instances could be adduced of the existence of blind teeth, and the destruction of sight when not extracted. No horse has probably ever been seen with them at a mature age, having good eyes. It is conjectured by some to be peculiar to solely feeding with Indian corn; by others to our, in part, warm climate. It is most common in the West and South. Let our farmers be watchful about it, and when there are any defects in their horses' vision, let them examine their jaws rather far back. Farriers have often to extract them.

WINTER HOUSES FOR BEES.

The following description of a house for wintering bees is given in one of our exchanges:

The inside is made of flooring, plowed and grooved, driven tight. The walls are double, with four inches space between; the bottom and top are also constructed in the same way, and filled with dry straw. One inside and one outside door closes the entrance. Ventilation is secured by four half inch holes close together near the bottom of the outside door, and the same number in different places of the inside one. The space between the doors is not packed with straw, but left vacant. These admit the pure air, while an aperture in the top of the room allows the impure to escape. The house is about five by seven, and six feet high. The stands are placed close together on the floor and on a shelf.

FEEDING hogs on unground and uncooked corn has been frequently proved to be a far less effectual manner of fattening them than that of giving them the same grain ground and cooked; yet many persons prefer the former to the latter mode of feeding. Pulping roots, such as turnips, mangels, beets, carrots, parsnips, potatoes, etc., is now found to be a very profitable way of preparing them for fattening stock, and very effectual machines have been invented for this purpose. In the Channel islands large quantities of parsnips are grown for feeding milch cows, and are kept for a long time by being cooked and then poured into casks, nearly all moisture being expelled in the process.

TO PRESERVE CABBAGES dig a trench two feet wide and six inches deep, fill the bottom with wheat or rye straw. Stand the cabbages in the center of the trench, heads down, and three inches apart. Scatter straw around the heads and cover from four to eight inches deep with earth, leaving the roots exposed to the weather. A board laid on each side of the hill will keep it from washing down by rains. A dry spot should be selected for the purpose. Cabbages should be buried this month. A few freezings do not hurt them, but rather improve their flavor.

TO KEEP POTATOES for seed: When first dug let them dry off well by lying several days spread out thin on the barn floor; if they are greened by the sun it is a double advantage, for no careless cook will take of them twice for boiling. Then place them in a cool dry part of the cellar, on a floor of boards, and not more than two feet deep. Never keep them in barrels. Examine them occasionally during the winter, and if they show a tendency to grow, rub the eyes out and spread them out thinner.

A NEWSPAPER exchange says that one bushel of corn will make ten and a half pounds of pork. If this be true, pork will cost the feeder about one tenth as much per pound as the corn is worth upon which it is fattened. Thus with corn at fifty cents the pork costs about five cents. The relative advantages of selling or feeding the corn may thus be judged.

THE Germantown Telegraph deprecates leaving corn fodder in the shocks through November. It should remain no longer in the field than is necessary to dry the grain. After husking the fodder should be carefully stacked near the place of feeding or put under sheds. Horses prefer it to hay, and it is especially sought for for racing animals. If cut and steamed it is as good as the best hay, and really more milk producing.

IN setting out young orchards, always register the varieties immediately in a book, where they may be referred to in a few years, when the trees commence bearing, and the labels are lost, and name forgotten.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Southern Cultivator adduces many facts in support of the theory that rust is a disease as permanently fixed in some varieties of wheat as the consumption is in some families. He classes the Tappahannock with the diseased varieties.

THE St. Louis Journal of Agriculture is responsible for the following: A genius out West has just patented a machine for making chestnuts out of sweet potatoes. He is a brother to the old man who put handles to prickly pears, and sold them for currycombs.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Massachusetts Ploughman says: Cover your strawberry vines lightly, or you smother them. Pine boughs are just the thing for it; but oak leaves, sea-weed, or coarse hay are good. Remember long manure is fatal to them.

ALWAYS tie a halter by first making a single loop, and thrusting the end of the halter through this loop. This is quickly united, and will never come untied of itself.

GAS tar, mixed with white wash, applied to the interior of a hen house, at the rate of one gill to a pailful, it is said, will disperse the lice.

IN plowing or teaming on the road in hot weather, always rest the horses on an eminence, where one minute will be worth two in a warm valley.

DIP well seasoned shingles in a lime wash, and dry them before laying, and they will last much longer and not become covered with moss.

DIP the ends of nails into grease, and they will drive easily into hard wood, where they would otherwise double and break.

Ohio River Navigation.

Several years since a survey of the Ohio river, with a view to its permanent improvement, was ordered by the National government, and the work was completed about a year since, under the auspices of Mr. W. Milnor Roberts, engineer, who now has the materials in hand and is preparing his report, to be presented to Congress at its ensuing session. This survey has been the only careful, complete and scientific examination of the Ohio river ever made; and it presents the whole case to the government and to the people. This river has been sneered at so long as being frozen up one-half the year and dried up the other half, that the people not interested in its navigation seem to be totally ignorant of its real importance. When the railroad fever was at its height, every one took it for granted that the days of the river trade were numbered. Yet the river trade has survived neglect, war, opposition and misrepresentation, and is now as prosperous as ever. The seven great States of Missouri, Kentucky, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania border its waters, and are participants in its commerce; but its trade reaches far beyond their limits. It coal supplies every city on the western rivers.

The Ohio, before leaving Pennsylvania, receives the water and the trade of the Conemaugh, the Beaver, the Allegheny and the Monongahela rivers, and these accumulate a volume of business that is fast making Pittsburgh a mighty metropolis. In West Virginia it receives the waters and trade of the Great and Little Kanawha and the Big Sandy rivers; in Kentucky of the Licking, Kentucky, Salt, Green, Cumberland and Tennessee rivers; in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois the Muskingum, Scioto, Miami and Wabash rivers. The district drained by these waters is the most fertile, populous, wealthy and flourishing in the republic. Its resources are boundless, and its future will warrant even the most extravagant estimates. If a natural highway of navigation between the Alleghenies and the Mississippi be demanded, the Ohio river is exactly in the position for it, midway between British America and the Gulf of Mexico. No canal could be made that could be more advantageously located.

Why, then, has not this river become preeminently important in the intercourse between the East and West? Simply because its waters, instead of being economized by means of dams and stone reservoirs, have been allowed to run freely, so that the floods soon waste away without accomplishing any more than the carrying to market of the great fleets of coal boats accumulated at Pittsburgh to await such chances. This matter of improving the navigation of the Ohio has been long before Congress, but it has made little progress, and partly because there was a wide disagreement as to the best mode of improvement. Mr. Roberts' survey is intended to settle the latter, and as to the former we presume that by this time some of the great railway managers begin to perceive the necessity of working their lines in connection with the river navigation.

We have viewed the Ohio simply as a central channel of trade east of the Mississippi. But this river has a wider area of usefulness. By its connection with the Mississippi river, it opens a perfect line of water communication, from Pittsburgh to the Gulf at the South, and to St. Paul at the North, the entire length of that prodigious river, with subsidiary connections through the whole interior by means of the tributaries of that stream, of which the greatest, the Missouri, takes the Western limit clear out to the Rocky mountains. Steamers pass freely over the whole of this immense line, and Pittsburgh is the indisputable eastern head of all this trade. Naturally, then, whatever is to be done for the Ohio river navigation, excites deep interest in that city.

It has been customary for the national government to make appropriations for river and harbor improvements at every session, and therefore we see no reason worth considering why so great a work as this should not come in for its share. A small portion of the river lies exclusively in Pennsylvania. All the rest of the river runs between the states and forms their boundary. It belongs to none of them, and therefore its improvement rests upon none. But we cannot possibly conceive of any work that would be more national in its character than this. It affects fully two thirds of the States of the Union, and its influence upon the trade of the whole valley of the Mississippi would be immediate and great. Pennsylvania has received so little at the hands of the Government that she can ask for this with a good grace. But it must not be regarded as a benefit to us alone, since it is merely testing the plan, which, if successful, is to be extended to the whole Ohio, and ultimately, we presume, to other rivers. If the seven States immediately concerned will stand unitedly together in favor of the appropriation by Congress they can get it. Hence we think it would be wise on the part of our Pittsburgh friends to consult with the Chambers of Commerce of Cincinnati, St. Louis and other river cities, with a view to some joint action on the subject that will relieve the movement of being merely in the interest of Pennsylvania, which it is far from being.—Philadelphia N. American.

RUPTURE AND HERNIA.

The condition of persons afflicted with rupture is one that ought to receive immediate attention and care, for the reason that no one can tell when or how soon it may pass into an incurable or irremediable state.

Many persons are ruptured that for a long time are not aware of the fact, so that months and oftentimes years pass away without their seeking the necessary relief. So, on the other hand, many persons suppose themselves ruptured when they are not, and apply trusses of ill construction, which, in nine cases out of ten, do more harm than good.

No one need have any doubt about rupture, if they will do what they should to satisfy themselves upon the subject. DR. KEYSER, at his Great Medical Store and at his office, No. 167 Liberty street, has investigated the subject in all its bearings, and is fully up to the highest standard of science in that department of mechanical surgery; and our readers cannot apply to an abler surgeon in that department in the United States. The Doctor has now been engaged in medicine in its various departments, for a period of nearly thirty-five years, and is supplied with every sort of Truss that may be needed for the relief or cure of ruptured persons. The Doctor has given the subject of Hernia, as well as chronic diseases of the various kinds, the most sedulous attention and study, and has succeeded in some of the most intricate and difficult cases known to the medical art. He says that scarcely a day passes without an application of a truss, and it is really a wonder that so many persons go unprotected when complete relief could be had at a reasonable rate.

He has trusses that will suit any case and at prices far below the ordinary range, and the patient has the additional advantage of having the Truss properly applied. A great many of the Trusses sold are an injury rather than a benefit, and we have frequently removed them where they were not needed at all and where their use was exceedingly hurtful. It ought to be borne in mind that there are tumors that are not ruptures, but resemble them so closely as to baffle any person but one well skilled in the anatomy of Hernia. These cases are curable, as well as other diseases by proper appliances and treatment and those so afflicted should bear this in mind when seeking for relief.

DR. KEYSER'S personal attention every day at his Great Medical Store and office, No. 167 Liberty street, from 9 A. M. until 1 P. M., and from 3 until 6 and 7 to 9 at night.

WE LIVE IN THREE CLIMATES.

In this country we have at different seasons of the year, the temperature of three climates. Our Springs and Autumns have a softness and mildness belonging only to the Temperate Zones; our Mid-summers are torrid, and our Mid-winters almost arctic in their frigidity. These changes, involving a variation of from ninety to one hundred degrees of Fahrenheit during the year, are upon the whole conducive to health and long life, but they tend to entail upon us some distressing complaints which can only be escaped by the exercise of due care and the use of a proper antidote when the system is predisposed to contract them. The chief and most annoying of these disorders is dyspepsia, once supposed to be incurable, but which, since the introduction of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, now about twenty years ago, has proved to be a perfectly manageable disease. In the Spring and Fall, but more especially in the Fall, the symptoms of dyspepsia are generally aggravated. The profuse expenditure of the animal fluids under the burning sun of Summer, is apt to leave the stomach weak and indolent and incompetent to the task of perfect digestion. It requires a tonic which will rouse it from its lethargy and brace and invigorate without irritating or inflaming it. This tonic has been provided in the wonderful vegetable preparation which has replaced to a great measure, all the old palliatives formerly prescribed by physicians, under the false idea that the disorder could not be radically cured. The experience of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS in all the varieties of dyspepsia, acute or chronic, has effectually exploded this fallacy, and it is now recommended as a specific for indigestion by some of the most eminent members of the medical profession.

HARVEY FISK. A. S. HATCH.
OFFICE OF FISK & HATCH,
Bankers and Dealers in Government
SECURITIES.
No. 5 Nassau Street, N. Y.
NOVEMBER 8, 1869.

To our Customers and Correspondents:

The surprising development of our national resources and the rapidity with which the Government is now enabled to reduce the national debt, by weekly purchases, render it apparent that the time is approaching when the Five-Twenty bonds may be funded at not over four or four and a half per cent. interest.

Meanwhile their high price, as compared with other classes of securities, paying an equal rate of interest, is leading to general inquiry for more profitable forms of investment in which money may be safely invested.

During the war the necessities and peril of the Government, and the consequent cheapness of its securities, rendered them so attractive that, from this cause, combined with the patriotic faith of the people in their safety, they absorbed almost the entire floating capital of the country, and diverted attention from other classes of securities which had been before deemed sufficiently conservative and sound to meet the wants of the most cautious investors.

The Government is no longer a borrower. It no longer needs the country's capital, but desires gratefully and honorably to repay it.

The rapid accumulation of capital for investment, and the reduction of the national debt and improvement of the national credit—rendering it certain that hereafter but a comparatively low rate of interest can be derived from investment in Government bonds—is compelling the search for other safe and well guarded channels into which capital not employed in business may wisely flow.

The enterprises of Peace, no less needful in their time and place, for the common welfare, than were the waste and cost of War, now call for the capital which the Government no longer needs, and offer for it a remuneration which the Government need no longer pay, and in some cases a security as stable and enduring as the nation itself.

The desire to capitalize the premium which may now be realized upon Five-Twenty bonds, and which a material decline in Gold toward par, and the ability of the Government to fund them at a lower rate of interest, may at any time extinguish, is held by many holders who desire some satisfactory assurance as to other forms of investment, and in place of the low priced securities in the market would afford the necessary safety to justify an exchange.

The applications for information and advice which are addressed to us daily, show how universal is the desire for this assurance, as to what forms of investment more profitable than Government securities at present market rates, are entitled to the confidence of the investors.

The pressure of this want has led us to feel the importance of directing our own attention as bankers, our large experience and our facilities for obtaining reliable information, to the subject of supplying it in some measure, and to offer the result of our inquiries to those who may be disposed to confide in our good faith and judgment.

We are unwilling to offer to our friends and the public anything which according to our best judgment is not as secure as the national obligations themselves, with which we have hitherto principally identified ourselves.

Since closing the GREAT CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD LOAN, which meets all these requirements, we have carefully examined many others, but have found no other which would fully do so, until the following was placed in our hands:

FIRST MORTGAGE
Six Per Cent. Gold Bonds
OF THE
WESTERN PACIFIC R. R. CO.
OF CALIFORNIA.

The Western Pacific Railroad connecting Sacramento with San Francisco, furnishes the final link in the extraordinary fact of an unbroken line of rail from the shore of the Atlantic to that of the Pacific.

It is 158 miles in length, including a short branch, and it will be the

METROPOLITAN LINE
Of the Pacific Coast,

connecting its chief cities, and traversing the garden of the rich and growing State of California, receiving, in addition to an immense and lucrative local traffic, the through business over the Union and Central Pacific Railroads—between the Eastern States and Sacramento.

It is completed, fully equipped, and in successful operation, and its earnings in October, the first full month, amounted to $105,000 in coin. The net earnings will, by a moderate estimate, amount to $600,000 per annum, in coin, while the interest on its Bonds will be but $168,000.

The value of the property and franchises is not less than

Ten Millions of Dollars,

and the amount of the mortgage is $2,800,000.

The Bonds are $1,000 each, have thirty years to run, and will be sold at

Ninety, and Accrued Interest, in currency. They are made payable, PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST, IN GOLD COIN, in the city of New York. Coupons due January and July 1st.

The near approach of the time when the United States can probably fund the greater portion of its Six per cent. debt, is naturally causing inquiry for other forms of investment, which will afford satisfactory security with the same rate of interest. THE WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS must have an immense advantage over all other securities based upon merely local or uncompleted railroads, and may be relied upon as a solid and permanent investment, and as much confidence as Government bonds, or as first-class mortgages on New York City property.

The loan is small in amount. Its claims to confidence are apparent. It will be rapidly taken. Bonds will be delivered as the orders are received. Government Bonds received at their full market value in exchange.

CARBOLIC SALVE.
The important discovery of the CARBOLIC ACID as a CLEANSING, PURIFYING, and HEALING Agent is one of the most remarkable results of modern medical research. During the late civil war it was extensively used in the Hospitals, and was found to be not only a thorough disinfectant, but also the most wonderful and speedy HEALING REMEDY ever known.
It is now presented in a scientific combination with other soothing and healing agencies, in the form of a SALVE; and, having been already used in numberless cases with most satisfactory and beneficial results, we have no hesitation in offering it to the public as the most certain, rapid, and effectual remedy for all Sores and Ulcers, no matter of how long standing, for Burns, Cuts, Wounds, and every ABRASION of SKIN or FLESH, and for Skin diseases generally.
Sold by all Druggists. Price 25 cents.
JOHN F. HENRY, Sole Prop'r,
NO. 8 COLLEGE PLACE, New York.

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL private diseases, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, Pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 1 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET, (near Court House) Pittsburgh, Pa.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, Dec. 1, 1869.

The refusal of the Secretary of the Treasury to accept bids for gold at less than 122 per cent. yesterday, has imparted a firmer tone to the gold market, and at one time advanced the premium to 123⅛. To-day the market opened weak at 122¼, declined suddenly to 121⅞, and closed rather firm at 122. The greater steadiness of the market is also partly due to a desire of covering all gold that may be needed between now and January next, for fear that higher quotations would be made before the close of the year, during the time when new schemes will be offered by the left wing of Congress to reduce the interest on our national debt, or proposing new measures for funding or resuming specie payments. The market finds a further support in the new liberal speculative purchases by parties of democratic proclivity, basing the value of gold or the discount of greenbacks on the market price of our staple exports, whilst it is a well-known fact, theoritically correct and suppotred by past experience, that these articles do not regulate the premium on gold during the suspension of specie payment, but would well hold good if the country's circulating medium was specie or its equivalent. In regard to the non-conformity of the prices of some of the leading articles for export and consumption, we must search elsewhere for a satisfactory explanation. Prominent among these is the power yet possessed by a few wealthy speculators and large houses, who have amassed great wealth during and since the war, and who now control the markets to a great extent. It is also well known that merchandise does not conform so rapidly in the declining scale, to the yielding tendency of gold, as stocks and other articles, for which a central market is found for all that is marketable; and thirdly, the doubts yet existing whether gold would not suddenly advance as soon as the Government changes its policy in regard to sales of gold or purchases of bonds, and for disturbances abroad, where fully one half of our entire funded debt is held on speculation.

Government bonds remain dull, and have slightly declined to-day, but remain steady. The pressure to sell increases at every decline of a point or two, and buyers are willing to hold their greenbacks, which are daily more appreciating.

Stocks are gradually recovering from the extreme decline last night, under free purchases by the cliques, to sustain the market for the present, in order to sell out.

Money is more easy for good paper, but only obtainable at high rates.

The American Merchants' Union Express Company has declared a dividend of three per cent., payable December 15th.

Business is dull, but appears to show signs of slight improvement.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, December 1, 1869.

The Secretary of the Treasury to-day instructed the Assistant Treasurer not to readvertise the million cf gold offered yesterday, and withdraw it entirely. The Treasury Department to-day purchased only 2,000,000 of the bonds called for in the advertisement. The currency balance in the Treasury is at a lower point than for some time, and does not permit of any extra purchases of bonds without the usual gold sales. Bonds to the extent of 335,000 were delivered to the Assistant Treasurer to-day on the account of the $2,000,000.

Money was active and stringent up to two o'clock, and the rates for call loans 7 per cent. currency and 7 per cent. gold per annum, and 1-16 per cent. per diem. After that the gold demand abated, and money was accessible at 7 per cent. currency. Discounts nominally unchanged. Sterling dull, 8⅞@9¼.

Gold opened at 122¼, fell to 121⅞, and closed at 122. Carrying rates 1-32@3-32 and 6@7 per cent. Clearances nearly $50,000,000.

Governments closed dull, but the quotations were very close on the lowest prices of the day. The leading dealers are apart, with free sales by investors both here and in the interior. Coupons of 81, 115¼@115⅜; 62, 12¼@12⅜; 64, 10⅝@10¾; 65, 10⅞@11; new, 13@13⅛; 67, 13⅛@13⅜; 68, 12⅞@13⅛. 10-40s, 6⅛@6⅝. Currency sixes, 7⅛@7¼. The Sub-Treasury sold $2,000,000 at 110 14-100@110 40-100.

Southern State securities firm on Carolinas, with a further advance. New Tennessees weak and lower. Missouris, 89⅛; old Tennessees, 53, new, 49; old North Carolinas, 41¾; new, 30¾; special tax, 30¾.

Stocks are unsettled, but generally firm; the Northwestern dividend of 4 per cent. on common, and 5 per cent. on preferred, is less Government tax, and payable on December 30th. The books close December 8th and reopen December 31st. The Stock Exchange has dropped the call of the old New York Central and Hudson River shares, although New York Central is still dealt in by brokers in the Long Room. The Board now calls it the New York Central and Hudson consolidated stock and scrip.

Five-Thirty Prices.—Canton, 50; Cumberland, 24½; Western Union, 34¾; Quicksilver, 12; Mariposa, 7½; Preferred, 15½; Adams Express, 56¼; Wells Fargo, 15½; American, 35¼; United States, 45; Pacific, 48¾; New York Central, 168¼; Erie, 27¾; Preferred, 45; Harlem, 127¾; Reading, 98¾; Michigan Central, 119; Lake Shore, 84; Illinois Central, 132; Pittsburgh, 80¼; Northwestern 72¾; Preferred, 86¾; Rock Island, 104½; St. Paul, 67; preferred, 82⅜; Wabash, 50; Ft. PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, December 1, 1869.

The markets, in a general way, are devoid of anything really new or important. We can report a moderate local demand for most of the leading commodities and a fair volume of business in the aggregate, while in regard to values there are no essential changes. There is a general complaint about the stringency in money matters, and, as a consequence, collections are very slow and very hard to make.

The most encouraging feature we have to report is the resumption of navigation; millions of bushels of coal, that have been locked up here for months, will be started down the river within the next forty eight hours, and a large amount of Pittsburgh manufactures have already started and there is a good deal yet to follow. This, of course, will tend to ease up money matters, within a week or two, and when this occurs, an improvement in business generally, can reasonably re-expected.

All the railroads centering here are doing a good business, having about all the freight they can handle, and the stocks of all kinds of grain, flour and country produce are large, and considerbly in excess of the demand. Notwithstanding this, however, the arrivals continue heavy, and nearly every warehouse on Liberty street is filled.

GROCERIES—The market has assumed a more lively character now that navigation has been resumed, and our grocery merchants will doubtless share, though indirectly, in the harvest which the recent welcome rains have brought to our coal men. Compared with last week, there is no change in prices worthy special mention, though, as already intimated, an increased volume of business is now expected.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, December 1, 1869.

The oil market was again very dull and somewhat panicky to-day, though compared with yesterday, prices have undergone little or no change. Refined opened rather stronger, but closed weak with offers to sell at about yesterday's quotations, without finding buyers, while Crude, although weak, is without essential change. As frequently noted recently, the market is in a very unhealthy and unsatisfactory condition, and what is worse still, there are no indications at present of any improvement this side of next year. Crude is so much higher relatively than refined, that our refiners have their hands tied, having no margin whatever to go or come on—in fact, it would be a positive loss to manufacture oil taking present prices as a basis. Many of our refineries have sold their crude recently, and those who have sold ahead will buy to "cover," as they can do this to much better advantage than they can by making it.

CRUDE.

Sales 3,000 bbls spot at 15¼; 3,000 seller December at 15¼; and 3,000 seller till July, at 14. At the close seller this month and first water was offered at 15⅛; and seller first half of 1870 may be quoted at 14.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens into the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pill, must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Liver complaint is one of the most prominent causes of Consumption.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all billous complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 245 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparation with remarkable success. Full directions accompany each bottle, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists. my19:151-d&F

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to swell steadily at this point with twelve feet in the channel by the Monongahela marks last evening. Weather has turned considerably colder and for the time being at least, the rain is over.

The Wild Duck is in from St. Louis, and it was said yesterday that she would probably load for New Orleans.

The Glendale departed for St. Louis yesterday with an excellent trip. Pilots—Oaks and Hamilton.

The Camelia, from St. Louis, arrived; also the New State from Wheeling.

The Belle was behind time considerably, and failed to make her appearance until late in the day.

The Glasgow is filling up rapidly for Nashville and will positively take her departure on Saturday.

The Maggie Hays, Capt. B. C. Martin, will positively leave for St. Louis to-day and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind.

The Argosy, from Cincinnati Sallie from Louisville, and the St. Charles from Cincinnati are due here to-day and to-morrow.

Business continues lively at the landing, freights for all points offering pretty freely, and all the boats appear to be getting as much freight as they can handle. Thus far there seems to be an almost total absence of "cutting" rates, and the closer rates are adhered to the better for all concerned.

Our coal merchants and boatmen were busily engaged yesterday in getting tows in readiness, and by to-day it is possible that many of the tugs will be ready to take their departure.

—The R. C. Gray is loading at Cincinnati for Nashville.

—The Dubuque Herald, calls the Tom. Jasper the "barge sinker."

—The Sallie, Louisville to Pittsburgh, left Cincinnati on Monday evening.

—The Kate Putnam, New Orleans to Pittsburgh, was at Cairo on Monday.

—The Dexter left New Orleans Saturday, in the Vicksburg trade, under Capt. T. P. Leathers.

—The St. Charles left Cincinnati for Pittsburg on Monday almost flying light. She will take on 200 tons metal at Portsmouth and Ironton.

—The War Eagle has been raised for a third time, and was on her way down stream when she sprung a leak at Red Wing, and again took four feet of water into her hold. This was pumped out, and she is again coming down.

—A thief or thieves went through all the rooms of the Emilie La Barge on Friday night, relieving officers and passengers of their jewelry, watches, and all they could get into their hands. Quite a number are minus valuables. The Clerk, Mr. Albert LaBarge, lost his elegant watch. No clue to the villains.

—It is said that the bridge at Omaha has been abandoned as impracticable. The difficulties of sinking the piles at the present site are such that the work can never be perfected, and competent people say that the bridge, if it is to be constructed, must be built on a site removed several miles, either up or down the river.

—A brilliant wedding came off at the residence of Eugene Leidy, Esq., on Adam street, Memphis, Wednesday evening. The bride was the beautiful Miss Jennie Woolfe, and the groom our popular young friend, Capt. T. E. Stake, of the Memphis and Arkansas River Packet Company. It is almost useless to say that we wish them a long life of wedded bliss, for we know that they are worthy of every blessing which can be showered on their path.—Memphis Paper.

—The main span of the bridge over the Ohio river at Louisville, 400 feet in length, the longest single span in the United States, was swung on its bearings Saturday. The temporary superstructure will now be removed, and in five days the channel will be passable for boats. The clearance under the bridge above low water line is 96½ feet, and above high water line 45½ feet. Boats expecting to pass under the bridge will have to regulate the height of their chimneys accordingly. The whole bridge will be completed and ready for the passage of trains on or before December 15th.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

THE GAZETTE is furnished in the city for six days of the week for 15 cents per week; by mail, $8 per annum; 3 mos., $2.

Hon. James S. Negley leaves for Congress to-day.

Our readers will find in another column the announcement of the Hearth and Home, a weekly family journal of great excellence.

The Bridge, on the Panhandle Railroad, washed away by a freshet Tuesday afternoon, has been replaced and trains are running regularly.

Mr. A. D. Sims, has been appointed foreman of Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1. by Chief Engineer Hare. The position was made vacant a few days ago.

Yesterday morning Mayor Drum fined W. J. Young five dollars for acting disorderly in Eichemiller's saloon, Fourth ward, Allegheny, Tuesday evening.

Without a License.—One of the city police arrested a tin peddlar, yesterday for carrying on his vocation without a license. He was brought to the lock up. Chief Hague discharged him.

Wife Whipping.—Justice Helsel yesterday issued a warrant for the arrest of Richard Bradley, charged with whipping his wife Helen, and their little daughter, to an unmerciful extent.

At one o'clock this morning the lock-up contained twenty-four prisoners, nearly all representatives of excessive drinking, in addition to a couple of wanderers, who had sought a night's lodging in the place.

Degradation.—Frank Smith was arrested yesterday morning, by officer Rivers, for gross indecency, on complaint of a citizen. Frank was taken from his home in the First ward, where he had been in an upper room, at the window, exposing his person. He was sent for thirty days to jail.

Beer Hall Festivities.—Chas. Lenhardt and John Speer got into a row in a beer saloon in Birmingham Tuesday night. Charles was rather roughly handled, and to get even lodged information for assault and battery before Justice Salisbury against his opponent. The accused was arrested, when the case was amicably arranged.

Workmen's Quarrel.—Yesterday morning, George Brandt, complained to Justice Saulsbury, that Nicholas Carsleo, a fellow workman in a glass house at West Pittsburgh, had unprovokedly committed an assault upon him. The parties were brought together amicably at the magistrate's office, when the difficulty was peacefully settled.

Our Lady readers of Pittsburgh and Allegheny should remember to call at Mrs. S. C. Robb's new millinery store, No 91 Federal street, Allegheny. This is decidedly the handsomest and best stocked store in the business in either cities. the same goods at about one half the price of others in the same trade. Go and examine and judge for yourselves.

Arrested on Suspicion.—Yesterday, Richard Savory, a youth about sixteen years of age, was arrested by an officer, in a second hand clothing store on Penn street. He was attempting to dispose of a pair of pants, and when questioned could give no satisfactory answer, in regard to the possession of them. He was locked up and will have a hearing this morning.

Domestic Trials.—Last evening Mayor Drum had a case of abandonment before him, in which a young man was charged with deserting his wife and child. An investigation led to a reconciliation, and the parties left the office with several friends who had acted as peacemakers. The chief difficulty seemed to be caused by a meddling mother-in-law. Other mothers-in-law should make a note of this fact.

Alleged Fraud.—Yesterday J. H. Anderman made information before Alderman Mullen, of Allegheny, against Jas. Andre, for fraud. The accused is charged with being in debt to deponent to the amount of seventy-five dollars, and attempting to avoid the payment of the same by selling off his goods and clearing for Europe. To prevent this an officer was dispatch with a warrant for Andre's arrest.

Pocket Picked.—Yesterday afternoon, a lady while coming into the city on car No. 4 Citizens Passenger Railway, was robbed of her pocketbook, containing about twelve dollars. The only passenger in the car was a man dressed in gray clothing who occupied a seat near her. She thinks she could identify the chap, but unfortunately thus far she has had no opportunity to satisfy herself on this point.

Another.—Yesterday, officer Lloyd brought to the lock-up a man apparently about fifty-five years of age, whom he had arrested in the train coming in from East Liberty. The man gave every indication of insanity, which caused him to be taken into custody. At the lock-up, during a lucid interval, he gave his name as James Taylor, of Hillsville, Mercer county, Pa. He is still in the lock-up.

Father and Son.—Frank Wolf and his step son Jacob Seiferth had a difficulty in the Allegheny Diamond. The son become very obstreperous, and was unsparing, it is alleged, in his abuse of the parent,—the abuse consisting principally in vile language. Subsequently the father had him arrested and taken before Alderman Irwin, for disorderly conduct. The case was dismissed at the cost of the defendant.

Diamond Wedding.—Yesterday afternoon, Alderman McMasters, who understands such affairs, was called upon to perform a wedding ceremony at the St. Clair Hotel. The connubially inclined parties were natives of England. The lady represented, aside from her intrinsic worth, about $30,000 in diamonds and jewelry. The happy Benedict's value is not known. The occasion, of course, was of great interest, but we are without particulars.

Bar-barous.—Alderman Donaldson yesterday received the information of James Whittaker against Michael Trautman for felonious assault. The pair are employed at the Keystone Bolt Works. James alleges Michael attempted to put an end to his existence by striking him with an iron bar. The other employes caught Michael, while James bolted from the premises, and thus saved himself. The Alderman issued a warrant for Michael's arrest.

Unfilial Son.—Theodore Makal, a young lad, was arrested yesterday by officer Sarber, of Alderman Donaldson's police, on complaint of his father, who charges him with running away from home, associating with improper companions, and going the downward road generally. The youth when brought into the presence of his parent and the magistrate expressed his penitence for the past, promised correct deportment in the future, and was accordingly taken home.

Alleged False Pretence.

Yesterday Hon. James S. Negley made information, before Alderman McMasters, against J. Newton Jones, for false pretence. The allegation is that Jones, representing himself as the agent of the Penn Mutual Horse Thief Detecting Company, induced Mrs. Negley to insure a span of horses with him for $600, paying him a premium of $25. The transaction, it is said, occurred last June, and the insurance was to run one year, but, it is alleged, since that it has been developed that Jones was not an agent of the Company named, never had been connected with it and that he had falsely obtained the money for his own use. The accused was arrested and gave bail in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance at Court.

A Suitor's Troubles.

"True love never runs smooth." For instance, a case was developed at Alderman Thomas' yesterday, which illustrates this. Mrs. Margaret J. Linderman lodged two informations against Mrs. Ebbert for assault and battery, and larceny. Mrs. Linderman has a daughter, who has tried the uncertainties of matrimonial life two or three times, and is now without a husband. Mrs. Ebbert has a youthful heir, who is smitten with the charms of this daughter, and to whom he has been for some time paying his addresses. One evening a ring belonging to the lady, described as a "gala ring, valued at $5," passed into the hands of the young man. The next day a dispute arose between the maternal parents of the happy couple, during which, it is alleged by Mrs. Linderman, she was roughly handled by Mrs. Ebbert, whom she accordingly charges with assault and battery, and larceny—the dispute having arisen in regard to the ring which at that time was in the possession of Mrs. Ebbert. The Alderman has issued the necessary legal papers looking toward an investigation of the case.

THE RIVER RISE.

Black Diamonds Sent Adrift—More Fuel for the People Down Below—Oil Prospects.

The rise of the rivers comes at a very opportune time. Already nearly five million bushels of coal have been run out for the lower ports, whose stock of fuel was getting alarmingly low. It is highly probable that the shipments made before the flood water will subside will closely approximate six millions of bushels. Herewith we present a table of shipments already made:

It is highly probable that from eighty to an hundred thousand barrels of oil will find their way to the city on the present rise by river transportation. This will have the effect of reducing prices, and lively skirmishing may be anticipated between the classic bulls and bears. Altogether the rise is a true blessing in no disguise, and its effect will be felt in a few weeks in all branches of trade and traffic, as millions of dollars will be drawn from other cities to be added to the working capital of our own.

Dividend of American Bank.

The Directors of the American Bank have declared a dividend of six per cent. out of the profits of the institution since it went into operation on the 16th of April last. At that time the one-half of the capital stock was paid in. One-fourth more was paid in on the 11th of June, and the balance on the 15th of August. Thus it will be seen that the Bank has been operating but a very short time on its full capital. And yet, the Directors, after carrying over a considerable sum to the contingent fund, yesterday declared the liberal dividend stated above on the whole of the capital stock. It will be seen from this statement that the success of the institution is almost unprecedented. The President, John Floyd, Esq., has been long and favorably known as one of our most substantial and reliable business men. The success of the Bank over which he presides demonstrates his ability as a financier and the high confidence in which he is deservedly held by the business community.

The deposits of the institution are already equal to some of the older banks in the city, and there is no safer place in which those who have them can deposit their funds. At the meeting yesterday, the Directors spoke in the highest terms of commendation of the management of the Bank, and paid a well merited compliment to the President, the able and worthy Cashier, William Floyd, Esq., and his attentive and accomplished assistant, Mr. William C. Macrum. Such is the confidence which our business men have in the American Bank, that orders have been left, we understand, for a large amount of the stock at twenty per cent. premium; but there is none of it in market. The present stockholders desire to retain all they have and are unwilling to sell.

Inquests Last Month.

During the month of November Coroner Clawson held inquests, as follows: Christian Krug, found drowned in the Monongahela river; John Hunter, Sr., killed by a train of cars on the Western Pennsylvania railroad; Erastus Gray, engineer on the Pittsburgh and Connellsville railroad, run over by his own locomotive at Braddock's Fields; Friedolin Zollie, an emigrant who died suddenly of apoplexy; a dead female infant, found floating in the Allegheny river at the foot of Twenty-eighth street; Ellen E Cordell, death from disease of the heart, in Indiana township; Dennis Carlin, accidentally killed at the outer depot of the Fort Wayne Railroad; William P. Roberts, killed by falling from the roof of a house in Lower St. Clair township; John Mitchell, death from apoplexy, at Brownstown; Peter Anderson, death from inflamation of the bowels, South Pittsburgh; Mrs. Mary O'Hara, accidentally killed on the Western Pennsylvania Railroad, at Guyasuta Station; Mrs. Ellen Devine, killed by falling from a flight of stairs; Henry Gese, killed on the Western Pennsylvania Railroad; George James, death from heart disease, at Natrona; a German named Wentz, killed at Millvale Station, Pennsylvania Railroad; unknown man, killed on the Fort Wayne Railroad, at Verner Station; Mrs. Isabella Campbell, murdered by her husband, Thomas J. Berkley, death from injuries received while coupling cars in the Pan Handle Railroad yard. Total, twenty.

On His Travels.

Yesterday afternoon a man giving his name as Charles Frazell, was brought to the lockup, charged with a series of larcenies. The accused came into Pittsburgh Tuesday night, and stopped at the Black Bear Hotel, Market alley. He represented himself as a hardware merchant from Springfield, Illinois. While he was standing in the barroom, the proprietor, Mr. Meyer, stepped out a moment, and upon returning, discovered that the till had been robbed of about $25. He said nothing at the time, but kept a watch on the man. The next morning, it is stated, he entered a barber shop and stole a dollar. Meyer learning of this made information against the chap for larceny. Officer Rivers arrested him, and at the lockup found in his pocket-book $75.80. While in the lockup John A. Buckalew identified him as a man who had taken from his saloon about sixty-six dollars, a part of the amount being a fifty dollar bill. This evidently had been changed, as it was not found on his person. The accused will have a hearing this morning.

WEDNESDAY, December 1.—In this Court, in the case of Moore vs. Mullen, previously reported, the jury returned a verdict in favor of plaintiff for $62.

The next case taken up was that of Morrison, Bare & Co. vs. A. Warner Holthouse. This was an action to recover some $5,000 on book account. It appeared that in the fall of 1868 the defendants took a quantity of paper from the plaintiff to sell on commission, as they claim. The money involved in the suit now on trial remains over from the account. On trial at adjournment.

Amusements.

NEW OPERA HOUSE.—Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams were greeted last night with a very large audience, and the usual fund of pleasure was derived by those in attendance. To-night the stars will both appear in Rory O'More and Yankee Courtship.

As will be seen by correspondence elsewhere published, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams have been tendered a complimentary testimonial by their many admirers in this city. They graciously respond and designate to-morrow evening as the occasion. We hope that the benefit will be largely attended and that these favorites will be made feel that our people have warm corners in their hearts for them at all times. The box office will be open for the sale of seats at the usual hour.

THEATRE.—Little Mac, the wonder of the world, will take a benefit at the Old Theatre to-night, and we look to see every seat occupied. The bill is very large, and a rare feast of song, mirth and minstrelsy may confidently be anticipated.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—The Drummer Boy of Shiloh was presented for the third time last night at the Academy to a large and appreciative audience. The piece was never better put on the stage, and we trust none of our readers will fail to put in an appearance during its occupancy of the boards.

EXCELSIOR HALL.—The Fair and Festival at Excelsior Hall, Allegheny, still continues, and each day and evening the attractions appear to be getting greater. Drop in and take your supper with the ladies this evening.

More Wives Than One—Mormonism in Pittsburgh—Connubial Troubles.

One wife in Pittsburgh is generally considered a sufficiency for a man, but sometimes this custom is not rigidly adhered to. People who forget it, however, generally bring upon themselves a punishment which is provided by law. Daniel Byerly, a youthful gentleman of about fifty summers, is experiencing some inconvenience in this matter. He was arrested Tuesday afternoon and locked up on a charge of fornication, preferred against him by Ellen Dougherty, a short time since an inmate of the County Home. While in the lockup yesterday afternoon, another female called to see him. Investigation revealed the fact that the woman was his wife, at least when she so announced herself he made no denial. The chap, however, was known to Capt. Graham, who inquired in relation to the whereabouts of another female whom he had been living with as her husband, and by whom he had two children. Byerly at first denied the charge, but when questioned closely acknowledged that the lady, Martha Green Byerly, was in the land of the living and well, together with her children. Troubles thickened around the unfortunate Benedict. Another information was made against him for adultery, and it is probable this will be followed with one for bigamy. At present he remains in the lockup, and will, when all the charges are preferred, have a hearing.

Again in Trouble.

Charles Joseph Ferdinand seems to have a happy faculty of getting into trouble. It's only a few days since he secured his freedom, from the clutches of the law and here he is again. Yesterday T. J. Atkinson foreman at the Republic office, made information before Mayor Brush charging with malicious mischief. The foreman states that Ferdinand came into the composing room of the Republic on Third avenue, and represented himself and another gentleman as the purchasers of the concern. He was allowed to take charge, and commenced operations it is stated by "pieing" the type in several cases. At this juncture, the foreman suspecting something wrong, went down stairs to call officer Garrison. Ferdinand at once disappeared, making his way to the roof of the building, passing over to that of Haven & Co., and descending through that establishment to the street. As he passed out the door Officer Rivers, who had been on the lookout, took him into custody and marched him to the lockup. After a hearing the Mayor committed him to jail for trial in default of $300 bail. He is there now and for a time at least quiet. What shall the next step be.

Goods Identified.

The goods brought to Alderman Bailie's office a few days ago, on supposition of having been stolen, have been identified. Rev. N. J. W. Allen, whose name was on the box, writes from Philadelphia giving a full description of the goods and stating that they had been given to an expressman to take to a bank in the city for safe keeping. The bank refused to receive them, and no further clue of the articles was received until that published in the newspapers. It will be remembered that these goods—consisting of silverware and clothing, valued at about five hundred dollars—were brought, packed in two boxes, to the office of the Pittsburgh Local Express. The boxes were marked "Rev. N. J. W. Allen," but contained no other clue with reference to their destination. After remaining in the express office six months they were removed, and examined at the Alderman's office. Allen's address was thus found, when the Alderman wrote to him with the result as stated. The goods will be shipped to the owner.

The Browning Association.

To morrow evening the Browning Association of the Pittsburgh Female College will give one of their select and interesting entertainments in the College Chapel, commencing at half-past seven o'clock. Music, vocal and instrumental, essays and tablaux, constitute the programme. These entertainments heretofore have always been of the most enjoyable character, and from the care and study with which that for to-morrow evening has been arranged, we feel certain the Association will lose none of its past prestige. Dr Pershing is as equally at home in getting up a literary and musical entertainment of the highest order of merit, as he is in managing a college which has no superior in the country. There will undoubtedly be a large attendance, and we advise our readers to procure a ticket at Mellor & Hoene's and go early.

Dexter Washing Machine.

This machine needs only be seen working, when everybody will be convinced that it is precisely the thing needed to relieve a family from an immense amount of drudgery.

If not satisfied you need not keep it after you do a washing.

"Spreading."

There is being pushed towards completion in this city a suit of salesrooms which, for spaciousness and adaptation to the special business for which they are intended, we think unequalled in this country outside of New York. We refer to the new carpet warerooms of Messers. Oliver McClintock & Co., No. 23 Fifth avenue. The new building is to be four stories high, and in the shape of a capital L. The main room runs through from Fifth avenue to the street in the rear, a distance of 240 feet, and along that street in width 50 feet, being equivalent to a room 356 feet long. The room above will be devoted to Cutting Rooms, Sewing rooms, &c. with an elevator communicating throughout. The well lighted basement under the main room will be devoted to floor oil cloths, mattings &c. In accomplishing these improvements they have had to tear down a large part of the building occupied by them, and temporarily consolidate their stock of carpets &c. into a much smaller space. The loss of room and inconvenience to which this will subject them as well as the exposure of their goods to the dust, and soiling unavoidable in making alterations have made it a necessity for them to largely reduce their stock, and with all possible dispatch. Accordingly many of their goods are being offered at prices much below the eastern wholesale cost. If any of our readers have present wants, or can anticipate next spring's need of carpet for house furnishing let them call upon Messrs. McClintock & Co., No. 23 Fifth avenue, and see for themselves whereof we speak.

Held for Trial.

E. F. Hallett, of Titusville, the alleged counterfeit shover, had a final hearing before United States Commissioner T. L. Seeley, in Commissioner Gamble's office.

Mr. Edward Livingston, of Clearfield county, testified that he had received a letter from the accused, of which the following is a copy:

OCTOBER 29, 1869.

DEAR SIR: I am now dealing in greenbacks, which I will defy the best judges to detect, and thousands are now making fortunes with them. They can be sent by mail, secure from observation, as follows: $20 per hundred, or $35 per two hundred. Destroy this as soon as received, and oblige. Yours, etc.,

E. F. HALLETT.
Box 356, Titusville, Pa.

Jeremiah Grandison, a saloon keeper on Liberty street, identified Hallett as one of three men who had passed a counterfeit twenty dollars bill on him on the 24th of October last.

The accused, in default of $3,000 bail, was then committed for trial.

EXPLORATION of the Nile Tributaries of Abyssinia, by Sir S. W. Baker, 8 vo. pp. 625, O. D. Case & Co., Hartford.

A daring and successful explorer has given to the world, in this volume, a most graphic, instructive and exciting record of his twelve months' exploration of the Abyssinian tributaries to the Nile. What discoveries he failed to make then, he is to-day proceeding to complete, at the head of an expedition mustering more than 2,000 men. Sir Samuel has already identified his name with African discovery as completely with the Northern slope of that continent as David Livingstone with its Southern half. We can the better judge of the broad results now aimed at when we admire the accomplished fruits of his past explorations. This volume offers to an interested public, just at the present juncture, one of the most timely and acceptable contributions to the stock of enlightened information. It is beautifully and freely illustrated, printed in clear type upon excellent paper, bound in durable and handsome style, and in all respects a credit to the well-known publishers. Mr. J. R. Cunningham, No. 62 Fourth avenue, will canvass this vicinity for subscriptions, and ought to succeed in placing it in every library in this county.

Pier, Dannals & Co. ship their Cream Ale promptly by rail and boat to all parts of the country. They have orders from New York, Boston and other points in the East, which, of itself, shows the reputation it bears away from home. When buyers are willing to pay the high freights in addition to the price of the ale rather than use the eastern brewings it speaks well for the Oregon Brewery.

STATE ITEMS.

THE tax rate in Philadelphia for 1870 has been fixed at $1.80 on the $100.

A PUBLIC meeting in behalf of Col. E. L. Drake, the petroleum pioneer, was held in Titusville on Wednesday evening.

HENRY CLEMMENS, a citizen of Reading, attempted suicide on the 29th ult., having been driven to the act by his son, aged sixteen, who ran away, taking with him some of his father's money.

GUS. RHELL, charged with killing David H. Tate, at Petroleum Center last summer, has been convicted of murder in the second degree and sentenced to the Penitentiary for fifteen years.

THE Washington Star reports that Mary Harris, who shot Adoniram J. Burroughs, a clerk in the Treasury Department, has been discharged from the Insane Asylum cured, and is now employed in the Philadelphia Postoffice.

THE Titusville Herald says: It is credibly reported that a well on the Clark farm, now the property of Mr. Bronson, is yielding fully three hundred barrels a day. It was torpedoed by Roberts on Saturday, when its production was fifteen to twenty barrels.

AT the Mercer court last week, U. L. Edmonds, convicted of larceny, was sentenced to the Western Penitentiary for four years and three months, and Chas. McKee, convicted of stabbing and wounding with intent to murder, was sentenced to the same place for four years and ten months.

THE Postmaster-General has made the following Postoffice changes in Pennsylvania: Tionesta, Forest county, David Hays, vice Joseph G. Dale, resigned. New offices established—Baker's Landing, Beaver county, George T. Massey for postmaster; Craigsville, Armstrong county, Wm. S. Rumberger postmaster.

AN insane man, who, for a week, had been confined in the Rouse Hospital in Youngstown, Warren county, for attempting to kill his wife at Tidioute, made his escape last Saturday, waded the Brokenstraw creek, wetting his clothes, which soon froze stiff on his person. In this condition he traveled six hours, until found at eleven o'clock at night by parties who tracked him through the snow. When found he was lying in the snow, nearly frozen to death. He was the next morning sent by the County Commissioners to Dixmont for safe keeping.

A QUESTION of very considerable interest was recently decided by Judge Chapman, of Montgomery county. It was whether the Town Councils of the borough of Pottstown have authority under the charter to make a valuation of taxable property in said borough, with a view to taxation for borough purpose, irrespective of the valuation placed on such property by the assessors for State and county purposes. The case was decided negatively, the ground being taken that the regular assessors chosen by the people for that special purpose have alone the right to assess property for borough, as well as State and county purposes.

THE case of Forest county vs. Venango, in which suit was brought to recover amount of county and bounty tax collected by the Venango county Commissioners, in that part of Venango annexed to Forest by an act of the Legislature, in 1866, has been settled. The trial of this case in the Venango County Court of Common Pleas, resulted in a verdict in favor of Forest for $7,164; but a new trial was granted, pending which offers of settlement were made by the Venango Commissioners, and after proper deliberation and advice from counsel, the case was compromised on the following terms: Forest county to receive $5,500, and Venango to pay all costs in the case.

The Conquest of Africa.

The expedition under the command of Sir Samuel Baker, and despatched by and at the expense of the Khedive of Egypt, to conquer and take possession of that immense and fertile region vaguely known as the Basin of the Nile, has set forth under the most favorable circumstances. The expedition consists of sixty-five vessels, steam and sailing, and of about 2,000 persons. On the vessels are five steel steamboats, ready to be put together, built in London, which are to navigate the Albert Nyanza and the other great lakes that may be found, and boat builders are taken along to construct such wooden vessels as may be needed for the navigation of the rivers and lakes of Equatorial Africa. The expedition is furnished with ample stores of provisions and supplies of every character.

Sir Samuel Baker seems to have gone into the work before him with very practical notions. He has published a sort of pronunciamento—addressed, however, more to those he leaves behind him than to those to whom he is going. He does not intend, it appears, to assume the character of the great emancipator, and to set his new subjects free from slavery. Although he will put a stop to the slave-trade, slavery, or something very much like it, is to continue. "If I free the tribes from slavery," says he, "I shall insist upon their working for themselves; they will then desire to change their surplus produce for our manufactures; but, unless by a firm authority compelled to labor, they would quickly relapse into hopeless apathy and indolence, a desire for slaves would result from habits of idleness, and the negro would enslave the negro as before, should the paternal but strong arm be withdrawn."

The Red River Difficulty.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

TORONTO, December 1.—A special dispatch from St. Paul says: Late Red River advices state that a Convention assembled at Fort Garry Nov. 16 to discuss the following proposition: First, a compromise with Governor McDougall. Second, an independent republic. Third, annexation to the United States. Fourth, a colony under Great Britain. Fifth, a return to the Hudson Bay Company's rule. So far the French half-breeds only have taken up arms. The English and Scotch half-breeds are as yet undecided.
